DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 52, 54-57, 62-63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over BERRY et al (6,231,598).

BERRY (Figs. 5 as shown below, for example) discloses a stent of stainless steel or nitinol as recited in the claims. Please, notice that each of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd loop containing section forms substantially single continuous sinusoidal bands. Alternatively, a sinusoidal configuration is well known for flexibility and expandability of a band of a stent, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to configure the bands of Berry-'598 stent in a sinusoidal configuration as this configuration would provide flexibility and expandability of the stent.

As to claim 55, depending on a reference frame, 3rd loop containing sections form either continuous or non-continuous. For instance, if 3rd loop containing sections extending the whole circumference of the stent are continuous. However, if each 3rd loop containing section extends only within one cell, then each 3rd loop containing section is non-continuous because there are many 3rd loop containing sections, each is limited within a cell of the stent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 58-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over BERRY et al-6,231,598 in view of Roubin-5,827,321.

As to claims 58-61, BERRY does not disclose omitting flexible connectors to form bigger cells. However, Roubin-'321 (Fig. 9; col. 3, lines 44-54) discloses omitting flexible connectors 49 in stent 40 to provide various flexibility of stent 40. In view of Roubin-'321, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to omit one or more flexible connectors of Berry-598 stent so that various flexibility of the stent can be achieved as one desires.

Election/Restrictions

The traversal of the restriction requirement is moot as all claims in the present application read on elected species as shown in Fig. 7 and there is no claim withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 5/28/2008.

Art Unit: 3773

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
